

Trains on all other roads are greatly delayed.

At Linden many houses were torn from their foundations. A family, consisting of man, wife and child was killed and many others were injured. The storm passed eastward, destroying farm houses, barns and everything in its path. Four miles south of Mt. Nevada five farmhouses were utterly demolished and four people killed. The body of one John Brown was taken from his house. His wife and child were killed. Much damage was done south of Wells. It is reported.

THIRTY TO FIFTY WERE KILLED
south and west of that village. As most of the damage is in the country the reports are slow coming in. It is expected later reports will add to the horror.

There is no confirmation as yet of the report that forty or fifty were killed at Wells. Ten are reported killed in the neighborhood of Mapleton, and twenty injured. The village of Mapleton itself suffered little loss. There was considerable damage to crops north of French Horn, and several fatalities reported there.

Andrew Hansen was killed by a barn beam blown in upon him, near Hartland. In French Horn, Mrs. Peterson, her three children, and a child of J. Sten were also reported killed, while many are more or less seriously injured.

Two miles north of Mount Pleasant a number of houses and barns were destroyed. No loss of life is reported from that neighborhood, however.

Three additional are reported killed at Minnetonka lake.

IMPROVING THE RACE

A Daughter Born to Mrs. Elaine Eastman.

Formerly Miss Elaine Goodall, the Postess—A Year Ago She Married a Full Blooded Sioux Indian.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., June 16.—A daughter has been born to Mrs. Elaine Eastman, nee Goodall, the postess. Miss Elaine Goodall was married to Dr. Charles Alexander Eastman June 18, 1881, at the Church of the Ascension, New York.

Dr. EASTMAN IS A FULL BLOODED SIOUX.

About eleven years ago Miss Goodall had her sympathy for the Indians aroused by seeing the Indian pupils, who had been sent up to the Berkshire hills to learn the modern methods of agriculture. She secured a position in the Carlisle Institute, where she taught successfully. Senator Dawes became interested in her and in 1885 invited her to accompany him on one of his expeditions to the west as chairman of the Indian committee of the United States Senate.

At Pine Ridge she was particularly INTERESTED IN WHAT HE SAID.

and she determined to make her life work the improvement of the condition of the Indians of the west. She became a government teacher at White Pine camp, and in 1890 was appointed superintendent of all the Indian schools in the Dakota territory, stationed at Pine Ridge agency. While attending to her official duties at this agency she met Dr. Eastman. They were constantly thrown together and

THEIR ENGAGEMENT SOON FOLLOWED.

Dr. Eastman was graduated from Dartmouth college and was a member of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity. He had been a student at the Carlisle Institute. After completing his classical studies he took up medicine. He might have built up a practice among the white men, but he preferred to go back to his brethren in Dakota. One of his sisters is married to a white man.

PASSIVE RESISTANCE

The Ulster Colonists Position on the Proposed Independent Irish Parliament.

BELFAST, June 16.—The Ulster Unionist committee meets here on Friday in the immense hall prepared for the purpose, to take action in the matter of Ulster's position on the proposed independent Irish parliament and executive. The paper to be read on that occasion is on the council's course of passive resistance. This, it is suggested, will take the form of refusal to allow elections to be held; that the mayor of Belfast publicly burn the writs of election and the general refusal of the Ulster Unionist party to be carried out. The writer holds that the precedent does not justify the British government in interfering with the army and police in a fight between Ulster and the south of Ireland the former would have the best of it.

HOWLING PANDEMONIUM.

A Mad Welcome Given an Artist on His Return to London.

(Special to THE HERALD—Examiner Dispatch.)
New York, June 16.—A dispatch to the Herald from London says: On returning to how his acknowledgments today at St. James' hall, Herr Paderewski found himself the center of a mob of delirious women, who pelted him with flowers and nearly tore off his coat in their efforts to grab him by the hand. One young lady, presumably in her desire to join in the pastime of mobbing the lion of the hour, fairly hurled herself on the pianist, and the crowd finally resorted to force to rescue the artist from the hands of the mob.

THE REPUBLICS RATIFY

Thomas Tumbles Into the Party And Tumbles Out Again.

JUDGE BOWMAN ALSO BOWS

A Complimentation of the Straight and Crooked Crawfish for the Spoils of Office.

It was funny. Governor Thomas and Frank Cannon on the same platform. The lion and the lamb lie down together. Panegyrics to the virtues of the Republican dynasty as free as water and cheap as Jewarps.

Great guns and Jupiter, Judge Lynch and Judge Bowman bowing to the same idol and strapping kisses to the same goddess, and glowing warm in each other's embraces. The bitter-sweet of disunion tied up by the same sweet-bitter, and the black blood of hate is broiled into the sweet tummy of concord and content.

The two wings of the s. c. p. gather in their adjectives and swear by the eternal that violence shall cease and that the venom of the past shall smell as fragrant as the rose.

But Arthur Brown's olive branch contains a thorn and Prince Arthur Thomas first endures the pungent state then retires to pick the prickly, pungent thistle from the government and whether his wound dignity in the Tribune's cushioned chair.

What a parody was the Republican uniting ticket. It was a parody on the scores of dither but to foster and break out afresh. The two wings wanting to unite went different ways. Democrats cannot get along and would make a speech, red mouths, pinching their smiles and smiling as they left.

And this was the Harrison-Reld ratification meeting that was to make Utah Republican, and it bore the love of legs to Othello.

Judge Lynch presided at the obsequies. He announced that Governor Thomas had been elected and would make a speech. The governor talked but said nothing. He crooked like a hare bounded in a clump of bushes. But he spoke and faced the audience and read the answer in the insulting banners that decked the balconies. Flaming from the galleries these devices stared him in the face:

The Mountain Ice and Cold Storage company desires to inform the public that the ice and cold ponds referred to by the board of health and sanitary committee in their report to the city council at its session on the evening of May 10 last, are not those of the Mountain Ice and Cold Storage company, who sell either artificial ice made from distilled artesian water or ice gathered in Paria's and Cottonwood canyons.

The ice consuming public may safely patronize the Mountain Ice and Cold Storage company, as they do not handle ice gathered on low lands, in ponds contaminated by sewage from Utah stock on the banks or vicinity.

Freezing does not destroy the germs in pure water. It is deleterious to health to eat any price.
